FACULTY SPOTLIGHT

Meet Jessica Warner

My name is Jessica Warner, and I am in my 19th year of teaching, with the past five years spent here at Unity School. I am originally from Ohio and earned my Bachelor's degree in Early Childhood Education from Ohio University. After graduation, I began teaching in Palm Beach County schools, where I became certified in Exceptional Student Education (ESE) and English for Speakers of Other Languages (ESOL). I later went on to earn my Master's degree in Educational Leadership and Administration from the University of West Florida.

Throughout my career, I have always believed that when children are happy at school and engaged through a variety of learning techniques, everything else falls into place. Two highlights of my journey as an educator include being nominated for the Beginning Teacher of the Year award during my first year in Palm Beach County and later for the William T. Dwyer Awards for Excellence in Education in the category of Exceptional Student Education.

When my family and I transitioned to Unity School, we knew right away that it was a special place. My husband and I wanted our daughter, Scarlett, now in 3rd grade, to grow up in a school that felt like home - where each child is seen, valued, and nurtured as an individual. We love the true sense of community and warmth at Unity, where children are cared for by all. We are so grateful that Unity is the only school Scarlett has known and that she will continue to learn and grow here.
