

Dear Unity Families,

Summer offers a gift that the school year rarely allows: time to pause, reflect, and appreciate how much growth can happen in a relatively short period of time. As I look back on the 2025–2026 school year, I am reminded that while there are many signs of a healthy and thriving school, what makes Unity truly special has always been its people.

This year, I watched middle school students dedicate thousands of hours to community service, younger students eagerly showcase their learning to families, and alumni return to campus eager to reconnect with the place that helped shape them. Those moments remind me that Unity's greatest success is not measured by programs or facilities, but by the people our students become. They are also a reflection of what makes Unity so special: engaged students, dedicated educators, and families who partner with us every step of the way. Together, we create an environment where children are known, challenged, encouraged, and loved while discovering who they are and how they can contribute to the world around them.

Guided by those values, we continued to make meaningful progress toward the vision outlined in our strategic plan. This year, we enhanced our learning environment through significant campus investments, including new roofs and the installation of impact-resistant windows and doors. We also strengthened our culture of philanthropy, with annual giving exceeding $1.3 million and community support reaching record levels.

At the same time, we invested in and retained exceptional faculty and staff through meaningful professional learning opportunities, including our speaker series and STEM-focused initiatives, while continuing to cover all employee health insurance premium increases.

We also strengthened student programming by deepening literacy instruction, expanding STEM opportunities, and creating pathways for students to pursue excellence in the arts and athletics, resulting in state-level recognition in music and theater and three district championships. These accomplishments reflect our shared commitment to providing an exceptional educational experience for every student.

Because of the strength of our community, Unity enters the new school year with tremendous momentum. We are a school that honors its traditions while embracing innovation, and we remain committed to educating the whole child—mind, body, and spirit.

Thank you for the trust you place in us and for the many ways you contribute to this remarkable community. I hope your summer is filled with rest, joy, and meaningful time with those you love. We look forward to welcoming you to campus for another incredible year of learning and growth.

In CommUNITY,

Genevieve Hoppe
